“ Dear Uncle Allen,

Sorry that I'm not there to say hello & to share these things with you and others in person. But, I know you are already very busy catching up on lots of past due card games, among many other things.

So - a few thank-yous & memories, that I would like to share.

-I was always so impressed with your ability to simultaneously carry on a full conversation, while completing a crossword puzzle & also correctly respond before any of the contestants on Jeopardy running in the background.

-Thank you for the patience & all the time you spent sitting & helping me with so much of my math homework.

-I can still hear your laugh, over everything else while sitting around Pop & Grandma Zirkelbach's dining room table during the countless card games played after all those dinners.

-Thank you for the loose accounting methods you ran while calculating how much I was owed for mowing your lawn for a few summers.

-I have to come clean... It was me that put the xerox copies of my bare bottom in your office desk drawer on Franklin Ave, more than a couple times. (My mother was my main accomplice)

-Thank you for all the great advice & guidance that you provided to me, on so many things, for so many years.

-The only two things I can remember you complaining about... 1. your mother throwing away a fortune, when she tossed your baseball card collection (a majority of which you inherited from your brothers)

2. Any time your playing parter didn't see the "trick" that was so clear from a mile away.... "how could you miss that!?"

-I thought of a third... When somebody gave you a bad tip on a horse or about a jockey that didn't know how to run a race...

-You were such an intellectual & intelligent, loving - loyal family man that provided so much, for so many people along your journey. It did not go unnoticed and it will not be forgotten.

Please say hello to everyone up there for us (there's no question *you were able to talk your way in) :)

And, thanks again.*

*Your nephew,
-Adam*

“ Dear Sweet Hamilton Family...Chip, Missy, and Brothers and Sisters. The pictures are so heartwarming and beautiful, it took me back into a different time and place. I was a grade school and high school friend of Janet and Allen. They were dear to my heart and those memories were brought back to me through your pictures. My heart is heavy, my heart is happy, they are now reunited with their beautiful families in heaven.

Till We Meet Again.....
