“ I worked with Amy both at St. Mary's and Gateway. Amy often helped me at work and was always very sweet, kind and fun. We had many talks when we worked nights together. She was a caring friend and she certainly talked about how much she loved her sons. She was an excellent mother, respiratory therapist and friend. I will miss you, Amy. I love you, I wish we'd gone for that walk that we were planning to take and I wish that things were different. I will see you again someday, friend.
May God bless Amy's children, husband, family and friends.

“ My husband, John, and I have had the pleasure of working with Amy in the respiratory department at Gateway Hospital. Amy was soft spoken, yet sweet, funny, always positive, and such a hard worker. She will be dearly missed. Although she was a couple years behind me, we also attended the same high school (I've attached some photos from my yearbook). May God be with all of her loved ones during this difficult time.

“ I want to express my sincerest sympathy to Amy’s loved ones. I ran cross country with Amy at USI in 1994. My favorite running memory with Amy (and of all time) was going 1-2 with her at Regionals on our home course, beating 2 Lewis runners that beat everyone that year. Not sure I ever again heard a roar of a cross country crowd like I did that day! We then traveled to Nebraska together for the National meet, where we accidentally hosted the after party in our hotel room, and flew on a “roller coaster” airplane to St. Louis due to bad weather just trying to get home. Amy and I only ran one year together, but it was one of the most memorable years of my cross country career. I thank Amy for her dedication and work ethic. She made everyone around her better, including me. I’m sure she continued to inspire others after college, so I know how many people she must’ve touched and what a great loss her passing is to so many. God’s peace and comfort to all of you from Seymour, Indiana.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Amy at both St Mary’s and Deaconess. Throughout the years we always had such great talks she was always so happy and made me and others feel so much better just by being with her. I wish God to send down his arms and provide strength for her family. She loved her boys so much. She was an excellent Respiratory Therapist and had taken care of my husband Duck a lot in his hospitalizations in the last few years. Give me great comfort knowing she had his back. I will miss her greatly. Fly high Amy you earned your Angel wings

“ So sorry, Timm, Blake, Bryce, Shirley and Lyman; I met Amy when she walked on the USI cross country team in 1994 while I was the coach. Jim and I got to know her very well. She was an extremely competitive runner, hard worker and her own person. Years later, we reacquainted as our kids were near in age, she took the time to make the connections and it was obvious she was a great mother! May God give each of you what you need as you grieve and learn how to live this new life, we will remember you often in our prayers,

Thank you Tammy for your sympathy and faithful comments. Were you the coach at a race in Joliet, Illinois? It was really cold. But here's a special memory about that I want to tell you. My husband, my son, and I were there. At some point my husband and son got curious about the prison that was close by. They went up close to the walls and heard a warning to get back. I guess it was baffling to the prison guards what these two guys in ski masks were doing. I didn't hear about it til later, I was either in the car or getting hot chocolate. I do remember seeing Amy coming into the finish. I think she was running good that day. Recently Amy had an foot injury. When I was helping her with it, I thought yes, these feet had miles on them. Hope you are well and taking care. Shirley Roll

“ I will remember Amy as spunky, fun, always smiling, energetic, positive, and one who could easily outrun most anyone up for the challenge. I remember her love of elephants and 80's music – dancing to Prince and New Wave songs with such a bright smile on her face. We had such fun in the 90's, partying with friends at a time when the world was seemingly held by a string. And then, life took our friendship different directions. I regret having lost contact with her over the years. Thank you for your friendship, Amy. I'll never forget the fun times and your energetic spirit. I hope that you'll find peace wherever you've gone, running no doubt an absolutely light speed 5K. With sympathy for her loved ones at this time of grief.

I'm so very sorry, Mrs. Roll, for what can only be an absolutely heartbreaking loss. I remember you and Amy's Dad as so warm and friendly, and I still have the card from you, along with those from Amy, kept in my memories box over the years. I remember thinking at wedding time that it's easy to see where Amy got her sweet, kind nature. While I cannot begin to understand this sudden loss, I came across some words that I will keep close when I remember Amy: "Be the things you loved most about the people who are gone". ~ Unknown. Certainly, Amy was a friend to many and loved for her kind heart, sweet disposition, and ways of delighting in the little things which she made very special. I will remember Amy always for these qualities, and cherish my memories of our friendship. May your grief, in time, turn to smiles and laughter, comfort and fulfilled heart in knowing she was a wonderful person and unforgettable friend.
