“ I had known David for many years and was a great friend of mine. I first met him when we sat next to each other in US history class freshman year at Signature School and eventually started a video gaming group together. Even though we went to separate universities following graduation, we still kept in close touch through video games/online, playing multiple times a week and hanging out. Even as our lives got busier after graduation. We still found time to hang out weekly with our online gaming group. David was a very funny, intelligent, thoughtful man and his passing saddens me greatly. He was one of my close friends and I will always remember all the great memories we had together. I will miss him dearly.

“ David was a close friend of mine and a great guy all around. He was smart, compassionate, and could talk passionately for hours about almost any topic. Over 10 years ago we spent a summer together helping build houses with Habitat for Humanity. Later we both ended up at Purdue studying computer science. We kept in touch the years after college and we would play tennis and play video games together when we were both in town. Lately we'd both been living in town, so we'd been going out to dinner, having long talks, and playing video games together regularly. I have wonderful memories with him through all of these phases of life. I am so shocked and sad that he passed away, and I will miss him.

“ I'm heartbroken to hear of David's passing. I have fond memories at Signature with him. I don't remember much Spanish, but I'll never forget how much he made me laugh in the back of Senora Razor's class. He was truly a wonderful young man, not just quick with a joke but warm and kind-hearted.

My deepest sympathies for his family.
