“ David came into my work on his breaks from his work about 7 years back. Around that time, he redid my bathroom floor for me when I learned I had a toilet leak too late and it had rotted the floor. He found it funny that I almost fell into the crawl space trying to use it! All he wanted was a good meal and a tank full of gas for it. He learned that my house was across the Street to a Pokémon Gym for Pokémon Go. Our paths have crossed several times. His favorite topic was his daughter. He really loved her. Always bragging about her. Prayers to all family and friends.
