“ What a day that will be,
When my Jesus I shall see,
And I look upon His face,
The One who saved me by His grace;
When He takes me by the hand,
And leads me through the Promised Land,
What a day, glorious day that will be.

While those of us who remain miss her dearly, Jean is having many glorious days. Prayers of comfort are being said for her family and those she loved.##imported-begin##Dianne##imported-end##

“ Jean was one of my crochet students at Bethel Temple community Church and quickly became a dear friend. I will never forget the day she called me at home while she was at the craft store and I walked her through the store aisle by aisle till we found the yarn she was looking for.

I was amazed at her determination to learn how to crochet and how many hours she spent practicing each week, when she could have easily have given up. But she didn't let anything stand in her way and she perfected her technique and was quickly making hats, scarves, wash clothes, and prayer shawls! All of which she gladly donated to help others. I will never forget Jean and how much she touched my heart. I know she is in Heaven now having a wonderful bible study session with Jesus! I'm sure Jean is shaking that place up right now! Love you forever Jean!###imported-begin##Amy Bartley###imported-end##

“ I met Jean in 2008 when she and John traveled to Israel with us. She soon became a treasured friend. Jean will be greatly missed for her kind encouragement, quick wit and spiritual insights. She had a passion for Scripture and made Betty Wade and Catie Carl bring her to hear Kris and Karen - and never left. Her words of encouragement, support and gratitude were greatly appreciated.

We'll miss you, sweet Jean!###imported-begin##Beth Badger##imported-end##
