Heaven gets a good one when this guy came through. Now he can be joking and flirting with my mom Linda Henderson. I always enjoyed working at kokies, it was always a joy when Kenny was there. I swear that guy had more jokes and never told same joke twice. He always made us feel like we were family. I know mom loved you guys she practically pulled our family to come work with yours. I'm now driving semis for a living we have our own trucking company so I'm not able to make it to the services but I'll keep you all in my thoughts and prayers.

Love you guys like family, your friend

“ Mike,
Wow...your Dad... I loved that guy. He was one of the good guys. Such a big smile, such a hearty laugh...and his eyes twinkled when he did both...I remember the tables set up cafeteria style. The first time and only time we butted heads was over a table layout... I wanted to put 2 , 8' tables together to make a rectangle...he said ...it won't work... I said it will...he said...then you have to set it up...and...I Did! It's been set that way for a long time now. That was in 2003. Your Dad, as you and I'm sure Jenna knows was infamous for the ...well ...let's just say lascivious jokes...I never did mind..I always laughed with him and smacked him on the shoulder, which made him laugh even harder. He even shared them with my Mom a few times...Mom said, "that guy is a mess". He reminded me a lot of my own Dad, so I was accustomed to the banter. Your Dad was a people person and you have inherited some of that. My heart goes out to you, Jenna and the rest of your family. He was truly a family jewel. Sending Love and Prayers your way.

“ I worked at Aramark Services where Kenny would always come pick up linens for Kokies parties. All the years we serviced him, I always remember him being very kind and polite. When we didn't have what he needed in our peak holiday season, knowing he would have to make another trip back again, he always told me to do what I could and never got upset. I think it was reassurance that he would get to come back tell me another joke!! He was the best joke teller ever!! My condolences to all!

“ I’m so sorry to hear of Kenny’s passing. I always enjoyed being around him and listening to his witty comebacks. We would always talk if I ever was at Kokies for an event, and he always had that big smile on his face.
