“ Hope and I was just talking about this the other day. I had met your Marsha and my mom for lunch at cross eye cricket and I brought Sophie with me so they all could meet her. And Marsha was asking Sophie so many questions that finally Sophie looked right at Marsha and said I will tell the answer if u quit talking with food in your mouth. Well I just about died of embarrassment I looked at Mom (Virginia) and was waiting on her to smack me because she was being disrespectful. But all three of them just busted out laughing and Marsha looked at Sophie and said well young lady u are so right. I couldn't apologize enough but she sure made me feel Okay about it. Just like my mom they were one of a kind and my heart aches for your pain. I still cry often when I think of how much I miss Mom but in my heart I know she is in a better place.

“ Marsha and I first met when my daughter was a baby, Marsha and I both have Down Syndrome children, my daughter was a baby and Tracy was 6yrs. old and I stayed friends with Marsha ever since, she shared a lot of things with me about Tracy to help me out since Tracy was older than my daughter. Marsha was a very loving mother to all of her children, but she took special pride in caring for Tracy. Rest in peace Marsha. Your friend Bonnie Brothers and Jennifer
