Hello from Wellsboro, PA. This exact thing happened to our friends w/their Okdest of 4 children, Gabe. He seems to have been same age or close, to your precious son. They created a fbbook pg to bring awareness, so I know you'll find some comfort there and maybe decide to start your own. I had never heard of the Choking Game prior to Gabe's death and learned the startling statistics through her provided links. I wince to call it a game, who has taken so many young lives & has even touched families of children in Elementary School! 💔 I have provided the link to their pg so that you can navigate it & it can help you through relevancy, but more importantly, through motivating us all to bring awareness. One father goes around to schools & speaks to the children, so that they will never try it. So many, at first, thought our friend's son had committed suicide, so the pg was helpful in clearing the rumors & spotlighting the info, so that Parents can reach their children with the truth about the deaths of the choking game, BEFORE children reach children with a challenge that is camouflaged as a harmless fun game. Prayers for you & all who knew & loved him.

I hold him so close in my heart as you do Mason. From this tragedy Mason has saved lives. I think that's what Mason would have done in his life had he had the time. PEACE*

“ Dear Bogard Family,
I am truly sorry for the loss of your beloved Mason. May God hold you all in the palm of His hand. Your most generous donation of his organs provide two lives- Mason lives in the heart of each recipient and the soul who benefitted from the donation will see another sunrise. How magnificent is that? I'm in awe of your ability to be public in the depths of your grief. You are remarkable. He was blessed with a great family. Sincerely, Beth Ward RI

By posting these challenges it's no different than any other murder. I have two sons very close in age to mason. I pray for your hearts. This just played in Seattle. I am so very sorry.for your loss.
