“ Sue was such a loved friend. I knew she was hurting and tired. She was a beautiful person, and gifted artist. I was not with her at the end, but she knew I loved her. We had many great times together in years gone by, and she will never be forgotten. She is now together with her beloved parents whom she missed more than life. My deepest condolences are with Rick and Angie now, and my prayers are for them now. Will miss my friend, but always in memory. Lynette Deason Shoemaker
