“ I was so sorry to hear of Terri's death. I worked with her while she was in middle school and realized she had a great deal of potential in spite of some her poor choices. I received a very special note from her about 3 years ago thanking me for caring about her. She was very proud of her son and stated she wanted to be a good mother - I'm sure she was. I will keep all of you in my prayers.##imported-begin##Connie Saunders##imported-end##

“ I found out about this in an unusual way. I host a radio show called the Rush Hour Rodeo on WRUL 97.3 and a caller asked me to play the song "If I Die Young" by The Band Perry and wanted to dedicate it to Terri Jones who died in an accident on Thursday. I guess I didn't put two and two together right away and I didn't know it was you the caller was talking about. I played the song with the dedicat...ion and about 30 minutes later, remembered that I did in fact know a Terri Jones, though to me you will always be Terri Stuck. Sorry. That is just how I knew you when you lived here. After I found out, I hung my head in sorrow and made my own dedication to your memory, "When I Get Where I'm Going" by Brad Paisley and Dolly Parton. I don't really know if you even liked country music or not, but I hope you enjoyed the song. I miss you my friend.

I will never forget meeting you when you were about 8 or 9 years old. You lived in a house just across the fence from my parents house and our backyards were separated only by a fence. My sister and I were introduced to you, I think through Ita Shook. Anyway, I remember watching you play in your backyard before that. I'm glad we became friends so long ago, and I will never forget all the fun we ha...d. I watched you grow as I grew and I want you to know I always thought you were beautiful inside and out. You had a wonderful and unique personality and I admired that so much about you. You were a free spirit. I'm glad we had facebook to keep in touch after you grew up and moved away. I hope you always knew I cared about you, my friend. I still do.

I lost a very dear friend of mine last Thursday, Terri Stuck Jones. I feel so guilty and sorry that when someone called the Rush Hour Rodeo to dedicate a song to Terri Jones, who had died in an accident, I did not realize at first that I did in fact know a Terri Jones. It is a shame how time separates people. I am thankful though that I did have the opportunity to talk with her on facebook after s...he left Carmi and I will never forget the times we had together in our childhood. I'm so sorry. Thoughts and prayers are with her family and friends as we mourn the loss of a beautiful person taken from us way too soon. At 33, life has only begun. In my heart, she will always be about 9 years old, the age she was when we became friends, and she will always live in the yellow house joining my parents backyard, separated only by a wooden fence. May God be with you all and may He take wonderful care of my beautiful friend, Terri.##imported-begin##Mike Erwin##imported-end##

*“ My beautiful sister-in-law has her own angel wings. I will miss your beautiful smile and bubbly personality. Although you were on this earth for only a short time; you impacted many souls. You were the rare one; never knowing a stranger; always had a smile; always made us laugh. I will miss you dear Terri, until we meet again at the gates of heaven. My tears are many for our loss, as heaven has gained our dear sweet, beautiful angel. Know that our family will love and care for Roger and Bradley and are keeping your family in our prayers.
Peace and love always,

“ I worked with Terri for several years. She was always full of energy and laughter. She would always bring a smile to my face when no one else could. My heart goes out to her husband and son and all the rest of her family and friends. She always had wonderful things to say about her family and I felt like I knew Bradley through her. She has touched my life in a way that no one else will replace. My prayers are with all of you.##imported-begin##Tanya Royalty##imported-end##

“ We in Alaska did not know Terri, except through her sister Sharon. And for all of us, Sharon’s loss is our loss.

In the Arctic we seem to deal with death more often than do other places, yet it is still no less a loss. For Terri ‘s family, we cannot imagine the void left in losing a sister, daughter, granddaughter, and relative so young and vibrant, with her whole live ahead of her. So many dreams, wishes, and opportunities were shattered in an instant.

We know that Terri “lives on;” and, through Sharon, will continue to make the world a better place. We who love Sharon and the outstanding work she does for the villagers and non-villagers alike, know that there will always be a “little of Terri” in the blessings we receive by knowing and working with her.

We know that things can never be the same for Terri’s family. However, the joy she gave to Sharon, will last an eternity. May you each experience that blessing.

None of us know why we are here, or anywhere, at any given moment in time. We can only assume there is a Greater Plan that serves as our “beacon.” As we in the Arctic look to the skies, may tonight we see one more “bright and shining star,” and remember always, Terri.

Thank you, Sharon, for coming here to the Arctic to help and be with us. The dedication to your work and commitment to making this a better world cannot be measured. We took you so far from your family and “Little Buddy;” however, I am sure that Terri was proud of the work you are doing and felt blessed and so proud to have you as a sister.

Our thoughts, prayers, and love go out to Terri’s entire family.
